Gospel

Matthew 4:12-23

Today's Liturgy gives us a lesson in ancient Israelite geography and history.

Isaiah's prophecy in today's First Reading is quoted by Matthew in today's Gospel. Both intend to recall the apparent fall of the everlasting kingdom promised to David, Eight centuries before Christ, that part of the kingdom where the tribes of Zebulun and Naphtali lived was attacked by the Assyrians and the tribes were hauled off into captivity.

It marked the beginning of the kingdom's end. It finally crumbled in the sixth century B.C., when Jerusalem was seized by Babylon and the remaining tribes were driven into exile.

Isaiah prophesied that Zebulun and Naphtali, the lands first to be degraded, would be the first to see the light of God's salvation. Jesus today fulfills that prophecy — announcing the restoration of David's kingdom at precisely the spot where the kingdom began to fall.

His gospel of the Kingdom includes not only the twelve tribes of Israel but all the nations—symbolized by the "Galilee of the Nations." Calling His first disciples, two fishermen on the Sea of Galilee, He appoints them to be "fishers of men"—gathering people from the ends of the earth.

They are to preach the gospel, Paul says in today's Epistle, to unite all peoples in the same mind and in the same purpose—in a worldwide kingdom of God. By their preaching, Isaiah's promise has been delivered. A world in darkness has seen the light. The yoke of slavery and sin, borne by humanity since time began, has been smashed. We are now able to dwell in the house of the Lord, to worship Him in the land of the living.

Catholic Customs ~ Week 1

Other religions, even other Christians, often look at Catholics with curiosity or disdain due to our customs and Traditions. We may not even know the origin of some of the things in question, or we may have questions ourselves.

Wearing a Crucifix: Catholics wear crucifixes rather than just a cross, not because we are morbid, neither because we have forgotten that Jesus is our Risen Lord. To the contrary; we chose to remember the sacrifice that Jesus made for us by dying on the cross. He lay down His life, so that He could take it up again. (John 10:11-18) We are not wearing a symbol of torture, but rather a reminder of love. "Proclaim the death of the Lord, until he comes again." 1 Corinthians 11:26
