Gospel Reflection

Matthew 4:1-11

In today's Liturgy, the destiny of the human race is told as the tale of two "types" of men—the first man, Adam, and the new Adam, Jesus.

Paul's argument in the Epistle is built on a series of contrasts between "one" or "one person" and "the many" or "all." By one person's disobedience, sin and condemnation entered the world, and death came to reign over all. By the obedience of another one, grace abounded, all were justified, and life came to reign for all.

This is the drama that unfolds in today's First Reading and Gospel.

Formed from the clay of the ground and filled with the breath of God's own Spirit, Adam was a son of God, created in his image. Crowned with glory, he was given dominion over the world and the protection of His angels. He was made to worship God—to live not by bread alone but in obedience to every word that comes from the mouth of the Father.

Adam, however, put the Lord his God to the test. He gave in to the serpent's temptation, trying to seize for himself all that God had already promised him. But in his hour of temptation, Jesus prevailed where Adam failed—and drove the devil away.

Still we sin after the pattern of Adam's transgression. Like Adam, we let sin in the door when we entertain doubts about God's promises, when we forget to call on Him in our hours of temptation.

But the grace won for us by Christ's obedience means that sin is no longer our master.

As we begin this season of repentance, we can be confident in His compassion, that He will create in us a new heart. As we do in today's Psalm, we can sing joyfully of our salvation, renewed in His presence

Prayer should be at the center of your life all the time, but especially during Lent.

Things to do during Lent...

Attend an hour of Eucharistic Adoration.

Take something on — 40 days of letter writing, 40 acts of kindness, 40 phone calls to the important people in your life.

Go to a weekday Mass one day during the week.

If you don't have a crucifix in your home, buy a simple one and put it in your bedroom.

Attend the Stations of the Cross.

Unplug from your iPhone or turn off your car radio on your commute. The silence may be jarring at first, but you may find that you are able to concentrate better and will be more observant of your surroundings.

Buy a book of daily reflections and keep it by your bed.

Think about a habit that has kept you from being whom God is calling you to be. Consciously give up that habit for Lent.

Spend at least one day volunteering during Lent. Visit the elderly. Stock shelves at a food pantry, etc.

Make a commitment to fast from insensitive, cruel comments about others.

Participate in a spiritual book club or small community of faith.

Rice Bowls for Catholic Relief Services are available in the vestibule. Please take one home and return it to the Church on Holy Thursday.
